Everyday Learning and Therapy™

At Noah's Ark, we use Everyday Learning and Therapy™ to help your child's development by teaching and learning new skills throughout the day.

We work with you to set goals about the things that are important to you and your child and then embed them into activities and routines across the day.

This means your child is practising and acquiring new skills while they are doing everyday things like having a bath, getting ready for bed and playing with their toys.

We know that children learn best when they are doing the things they enjoy most, like playing with family or friends at pre-school or childcare. They are practising and learning throughout the day with the people that matter most to them.

Research has been supporting this approach for many years.
